

SPH SEMINAR SERIES

HIV Hub Session

The HIV Hub was established in 2015 as part of the UQ SPH contribution to work alongside Professor Gilk's Queensland Chair in HIV and STIs. Work and areas of interest rapidly grew from HIV to encompass research on STIs and BBVs. Although informal, the Hub has served to catalyse some interesting work and research funding.

The seminar will give an overview of all ongoing projects (by Charles Gilks) and a summary of 4 research areas.

Lisa Fitzgerald will discuss work under the Testing to Treatment Queensland project;

Judith Dean will summarize the unique method and and often hilarious/disturbing findings on a HIV self-testing kit importation scheme;

Owain Williams will present some cost effectiveness work being conducted on HIV testing; and Coral Gartner will provide an overview of her NHMRC trial.

Date: Tuesday 28th March
Time: 1-2pm
Room: 113
Location: Public Health Building, Herston
